III. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for any Person or Persons, at all reasonable Hours, to inspect such Book or Books in the Hands of the said Overseer or Overseers, and to take a Copy of such Entry in such Book or Books, upon Payment of the Sum of Sixpence, except in case of any of his Majesty's Justices of the Peace sitting in and for the said County, who shall be entitled at all such Times to inspect such Book gratis; and every such Book shall be and be deemed to be sufficient Evidence in all Courts of Law whatsoever, in Proof of the Truthness of such Indorsements, and also of the several Particulars specified in the said Register respecting such Indorsements, in case it shall be proved to the Satisfaction of such Court that the said Indorsements are full or have been destroyed.

V. And be it further enacted, That whenever any such Apprentice shall be assigned or bound over to any other Master or Mistress by virtue of an Act, passed in the thirty-second Year of the Reign of his present Majesty, intituled, An Act for the further Regulation of Parish Apprentices, then and in every such Case, the Overseer or Overseers, Party or Parties to the Assignment of such Apprentice, shall insert the Name and Residence of the Master or Mistress to whom such Apprentice shall be assigned or bound over as aforesaid, together with the other Particulars, in the Book or Books herein directed to be provided and kept by such Overseer or Overseers; and for Non-performance thereof, every such Overseer or Overseers shall be liable to the same Penalties and Forfeitures incurred by this Act, as like Master as if such Apprentice had been originally bound to such Master or Mistress.

they would have been liable and made for Home Consumption, for the duties on the Exportation of such Spirits, while the Taxes on the Behalf by the said Act provided, and under the same to the other Regulators and by the said Act to the said Behalf provided: And whereas by the said Act in force at the Time of making the said Act, the said Duties, as the said Act in that Behalf is contained, were chargeable as the Law Wines and Spirits made for Home Consumption, but the Duties on Low Wines, and Spirits made for Home Consumption were, by an Act made in the twenty-seventh Year of the Reign of his present Majesty, among other Things, for the Duty of Customs and Excise, and granting other Duties in lieu thereof, repealed; and in like and third thereof, other Duties are by the said Act in force imposed for fermented Wort or Wash, brewed or made in that Part of Great Britain called England, for extracting Spirits for Home Consumption, and on other Matters and Things in that Part of Great Britain called Scotland, in the said Act in that Behalf particularly mentioned; and it is therefore expedient that every such Duty should be as Double the Duties which would have been chargeable for or in respect of such Quantities of fermented Wort or Wash, brewed or made in that Part of Great Britain called England, or in respect of such other Penalties, and such such Provisions as hereinafter in that Behalf directed: be it enacted by his Majesty, that from and after the passing of this Act, every Maker of Spirits for Exportation, or for such Export as he is bound to by Warehouse, to any other Distiller, and the Distiller who shall receive the same, shall, as hee and each of the said Acts is directed, be given as aforesaid, give Bond to the said Commissioners and Secretaries, and other Officers, to be approved of as any other Security is directed by the said Act, and to the said Use aforesaid, as is approved, as Double the Value of such Spirits, and Double the Amount which the Wort, Wash, Lagers, or other Preparations from whence such Spirits are made or extracted, should have been charged or chargeable if the said Spirits were made from fermented Wort or Wash, brewed or made in that Part of Great Britain called England, for extracting such Spirits for Home Consumption from such Casks, Cans, or Tubs, reckoning at and after the Rate of one hundred Gallons of such Wort, Wash, Lagers, or other Preparations, for every twenty-four Gallons of such Spirits, for the said Exportation of such Spirits, within three Months next after the Date of such receipt or Bond, and returning that such Leave be first obtained, and that such Notice thereof shall have been given to the Officer of Customs, as is in the said Act is required, for or in respect of any such Spirits to be sent by the Maker thereof for Exportation out of his locked-up Warehouse, to any other Distiller.

And whereas by an Act made in the second Year of his present Majesty's Reign, among other Things for the better regulating and encouraging the Exportation of Brandied Spirits, it was enacted, that in order the more plentifully to prevent Distillers for Exportation from fraudulently removing Wort, Low Wines, or Spirits, if any Decree should at any Time or Times appear to be issued in the said Act in 1790 for Distillers brewed or made for the distilling of Spirits for Exportation (except such Decree as is in the said Act in that Behalf excepted), such Distiller or Distillers should be, and was and were thereby charged with a Double Duty for the Quantity of Low Wines and Spirits such Wash is directed was permitted to make, and the Officers of Excise were thereby required to such Care to make such Charge in the Manner prescribed by the said Act; and that if any Decree should at any Time or Times appear in the said Act in that Behalf excepted, every such Distiller and Distillers should be charged, and the Officers of Excise were thereby required to charge him, her, or them, for all the Spirits so found to be decreased, and it is hereby enacted, that with Double the Duties such Spirits would have been charged with if made for Home Consumption: And whereas by the Laws in force at the Time of making the said Act, the said Duties, in the said Act in that Behalf mentioned, were chargeable upon the Low Wines and Spirits made for Home Consumption, but the Duties on Low Wines and Spirits made for Home Consumption were, by an Act made in the twenty-seventh Year of the Reign of his present Majesty, among other Things, for the Duty of Customs and Excise, and granting other Duties in lieu thereof, repealed, and in lieu thereof three other Duties are by the said Act in force imposed for fermented Wort or Wash brewed or made in that Part of Great Britain called England, for extracting Spirits for Home Consumption, and on other Matters and Things in that Part of Great Britain called Scotland, and in the said Act in that Behalf particularly mentioned; and by Means thereof the said Penalties, so far as the same relate to such Double Duties relative to Spirits made for Home Consumption, are become void, and it is therefore expedient, as has and is intended in the said second Penalties, to impose such other Penalties, and make such Provisions, as are contained in that Behalf directed: be it therefore enacted, That, from and after the passing of this Act, in and to be so effectually to prevent such Distillers from fraudulently removing Wort, Wash, Low Wines, or Spirits, if any Decree shall at any Time or Times be found in the Wort or Wash of any Distiller or Distillers, be void or made for the extracting of Spirits for Exportation (except such Decree as shall be made upon the Authority of the Commissioners of Excise for the Time being, to have really and truly sent from Accidents), such Distiller or Distillers shall, for every such Decree of Wort or Wash, be, and he, she, and they is or they shall be charged with Double the Duties which would have been chargeable for or in respect of a Quantity of fermented Wort or Wash, brewed or made in that Part of Great Britain called England, for extracting a Quantity of Spirits equal to the Quantity of such Decree of the Wort or Wash is found in the said Act; and if any Decree shall at any Time or Times be found in the Spirits of the said or several Licences, or of any other species of any such Distiller or Distillers made for Exportation, (except such Decree as shall be made upon the Authority of the Commissioners of Excise for the Time being, to have really and truly sent from Accidents), such Distiller or Distillers shall, for every such Decree, be, and he, she, and they is and are hereby charged with Double the Duties which would have been chargeable for or in respect of a Quantity of fermented Wort or Wash, brewed or made in that Part of Great Britain called England, for extracting a Quantity of Spirits for Home Consumption, as would be required to be requisite to make a Quantity of Spirits equal to the Quantity of Spirits of such Distills, reckoning as and after the Rate of one hundred Gallons of such Wort or Wash for every twenty-four Gallons of such Distill of Spirits; and the proper Officers or Officers of Excise in and are hereby, in any or either of the said Cases, to make such Charge or Charges accordingly.

IX. And whereas by the said Act, made in the second Year of his present Majesty's Reign, it was also enacted, that if it should appear that any such Distills, as in the said Act it is that Behalf particularly mentioned, had been made in the Quantity or Quality of the Spirits distilled for Exportation in one Day, and which could not, for Want of Time, be conveyed from the Spirit Cask, and locked-up, as was therein before directed, or in case any such Spirits should have been removed in the Absence of the Officer of Excise, in either of the said Cases, the Distiller or Distillers should be and were thereby charged for the said Spirits to be decreased or removed, with Double the Duties such Spirits would have been charged with if made for Home Consumption, which the Officer of Excise was thereby required to charge accordingly: And whereas by reason of such Repeal of the said Duties as aforesaid, it is become expedient to make such Provision as next hereinafter mentioned; he it therefore enacted, That if, from and after the passing of this Act, it shall at any Time happen that the Spirits distilled for Exportation in one Day, belonging to any Distiller or Distillers, inasmuch, for Want of Time, be conveyed from the Spirit Cask (as in which they are directed to be run immediately from the Still) and locked-up in the Warehouse or Warehouse, as by the said Act it is that Behalf directed, and it shall appear that any such Distills, as in the said Act it is that Behalf mentioned, had been made in the Quantity or Quality of the said Spirits, or in case any such Spirits shall have been removed in the Absence of the Officer of Excise, in either of the said Cases, in less and less of any Charge as in a such Case in the said Act it is that Behalf particularly directed to be made, the Distiller or Distillers shall be and are hereby charged for the said Spirits to be decreased or removed, with Double the Duties which the Wort, Wash, Liqueur, or other Preparations from whence such Spirits were made or extracted, would have been charged or chargeable with, had the said Spirits been made from fermented Wort or Wash, brewed or made in that Part of Great Britain called England, for extracting such Spirits for Home Consumption from Malt, Corn, Grain, or Tils, reckoning as and after the Rate of one hundred Gallons of such Wort, Wash, Liqueur, or other Preparations, for every twenty-four Gallons of such Spirits, and which the Officer of Excise is hereby required to charge accordingly.

X. And whereas by the said Act, made in the second Year of his present Majesty's Reign, it was also enacted, that when Spirits made for Exportation should be delivered out of any Warehouse or Warehouses, to be sent Coastways in order for Exportation to Foreign Parts, as in the said Act it is that Behalf mentioned, the Distiller or Distillers, out of whose Warehouse such Spirits were delivered, should, on taking out the same, give such Bond as was in the said Act in that Behalf directed, to Double the Value of the Spirits, and Double the Duties which were payable for the like Spirits distilled for Home Consumption, that the same Spirits, and every Part thereof, should (the Danger of the Seas and Emergencies excepted) be really and truly landed in such Port of this Kingdom for which the same should be entered, and such Bond so entered should not be discharged or delivered up, until such a Certificate as in the said Act prescribed, should be produced from the Chief Officer of Excise of the Port for which such Spirits were entered; and it was also by the said Act enacted, that such Spirits so to be sent Coastways, when landed at the Port for which the same were entered, should be, immediately as the landing thereof, put into a proper Warehouse, and there contained until the same should be exported, and should be secured by the Person to whom they were first, and by the Chief Officer of Excise in the said Act mentioned, in Manner as the said Act in that Behalf directed: And whereas by reason of such Repeal of the said Duties as aforesaid, it is become expedient to make such Provision as next hereinafter mentioned; he it therefore further enacted, That, from and after the passing of this Act, every Distiller or Distillers, out of whose Warehouse or Warehouses any such Spirits made for Exportation shall be delivered to be sent Coastways in order for Exportation to Foreign Parts, as in the said Act it is that Behalf mentioned, shall, as less and less of the said Bond as in that Behalf directed to be given as aforesaid, give such Bond, with sufficient Security, to his Majesty, his Heirs and Successors, to be approved of as any other Security is directed by the said Act mentioned, with Double the Value of such Spirits, and Double the Duties which the Wort, Wash, Liqueur, or other Preparations from whence such Spirits were made or extracted, would have been charged or chargeable with, had the said Spirits been made from fermented Wort or Wash, brewed or made in that Part of Great Britain called England, for extracting such Spirits for Home Consumption from Malt, Corn, Grain, or Tils, reckoning as and after the Rate of one hundred Gallons of such Wort, Wash, Liqueur, or other Preparations, for every twenty-four Gallons of such Spirits, that the same Spirits, and every Part thereof, shall (the Danger of the Seas and Emergencies excepted) be really and truly landed in such Port of this Kingdom for which the same shall be entered, and such Bonds so entered into shall not be discharged or delivered up, until such a Certificate shall be produced from the Chief Officer of Excise of the Port for which such Spirits were entered, testifying the landing thereof, and the several other Matters and Things in and by the said Act particularly directed, in the Certificate thereby required for the Discharge of such Bond as was thereby directed to be given for or in respect of Spirits to be sent Coastways, and for the landing of such Spirits in the Port of this Kingdom for which the same should be entered.

XI. And whereas by an Act, made in the seventh and eighth Years of the Reign of his late Majesty King William the Third, entitled, An Act for laying several Duties upon Low Wines or Spirits of the first Extraction, and for preventing the Frauds and Abuses of Brewers, Distillers, and other Persons chargeable with the Duties of Excise, it was enacted, that the Gauger and Gaugers of Excise should from Time to Time gauge and take Account of all Wash and other Materials prepared or preparing for the making of Low Wines, and also of all Low Wines, Spirits, or Strong Waters, issued in the Halls, Cellars, or Warehouses, or in any Wash, Tank, Cask, or other Vessel or Vessels, used by any Distiller or Maker of Low Wines or Spirits; and it was also enacted, that any Quantity or Quantities of Liqueur or Drink brewed or made from Corn, or any Wash or Where Spirits distilled for Exportation are not kept up in Warehouses, Distillers are required in Absence of Officer, the Distiller shall be charged with Double Duties on the Wash, instead of on the Spirit, as under § 4. p. 3. 121.

Needs of Distillers from whose Warehouse Spirit distilled for exportation as in the said Act mentioned shall be given to Double the Value of the Spirit and Double the Value of the Duties on the Spirit as under § 4. p. 3. 121.

* other Materials prepared for making of Low Wines, which he had found as in the said Act is mentioned,
 * and should not on Demand receive Satisfaction what was become of such Drink or Wash, or other such like * Materials, that in every such Case it should be lawful for such Gauger to charge such Distiller with so much
 * Low Wines as such Liqueur, Drink, Wash, or other Materials is missing, in his Judgment would reasonably * have made: And whereas the Duties on Low Wines and Spirits are now repealed, and certain Duties are * imposed in lieu thereof, on Wort, Wash, or Liqueur fermented, brewed, or made in that Part of Great Britain * called England, for extracting Spirits for Home Consumption, and it is therefore expedient to make such * Provisions as hereinafter mentioned: be it therefore enacted, That it shall and may be lawful to and for * all and every the Officers or Officers of Excise, from Time to Time, to gauge and take an Account of all Wash, * Drink, and other Liqueur or Materials, prepared or preparing for the extracting of Low Wines or Spirits in * that Part of Great Britain called England; and that in case any Officer or Officers of Excise, at any Distiller or * Distillers in that Part of Great Britain called England, shall visit, or find any Deficiency in the Gauge of any * Quantity or Quantities of Liqueur or Drink brewed or made, or in any Wash or other Materials preparing or * prepared for extracting of Spirits for Home Consumption, and which the Officer or Officers of Excise had before * found or gauged at such Distiller or Distillers, then and in every such Case it shall and may be lawful for * each Officer or Officers to charge such Distiller or Distillers with the Duty on a Quantity of fermented Wort
 * or Wash, Cycles, Perry, or other Wash or Liqueur, of the same Kind of Materials as the said Liqueur, Drink, * Wash, or other Materials consisted of, or was preparing or prepared from, equal to the Quantity of such * Liqueur or Drink, Wash, or other Materials, so missing or found deficient in the Gauge, and each Distiller or * Distillers shall pay the same accordingly; and the said Duty shall be recovered and applied in like Manner as * the said Duties by Law imposed for or in respect of fermented Wort or Wash, brewed or made in that Part * of Great Britain called England, from Malt, Corn, Grain, or Tils, or from other Materials for extracting Spirits
 * for Home Consumption, are now by Law provided to be recovered and applied.

XII. And whereas by the said Act made in the second Year of his present Majesty's Reign, it was also * enacted, that such Spirits in the said Act is that Behalf mentioned as should be shipped for Stores, should,
 * during the Time the Ship or Vessel was or should be within the Limits of any Part of this Kingdom, be * openly flowed and kept, in that the Officers of Excise might at any Time examine the same, on Pain of for* feiting the Double Duty of all such Stores which should not be so flowed and kept, or produced and shown
 * to the Officers of Excise, which said Double Duty should be charged by the Officers of Excise for such Stores
 * which should not be so flowed and kept, or produced and shown according to the Rate such Spirits would * have been charged with if made for Home Consumption, and which Charge should be paid by the Master of * the Ship or Vessel on board of which such Stores were shipped; and when any Spirits made for Exportation
 * should be entered for Exportation to any of the Places in that Act particularly in that Behalf mentioned, the * Exporter or Exporters thereof, when the whole Quantity of Spirits intended at that Time to be exported
 * should be shipped, should immediately give and enter into such Bonds as are in the said Act directed for the * due and fair Exportation of such Spirits, and produce such Certificates within the respective Times in the * said Act in that Behalf prescribed, and that the Penalty in every Bond to be entered into in pursuance of * that Act, should be Double the Value of the Spirits entered for Exportation, and Double the Duties such * Spirits ought to have paid if they had been made for Home Consumption; and that until such Bond should * be entered into by the Exporter or Exporters, the Distiller or Distillers from whose Warehouse such Spirits
 * should be sent, should be and were thereby charged for such Quantity of Spirits so shipped for Exportation, * with Double the Duties such Spirits would have been charged with if made for Home Consumption, and * that such Charge should not be discharged until such Bond should be entered into: And whereas by reason of * such Repeat of the said Duties, and the said Imposition of the said other Duties for such Wort or Wash as * aforesaid, it is become expedient, in lieu and instead of the said last recited Charges and Penalties respectively,
 * to impose such other Charges and Penalties, and make such Provisions hereinafter in that Behalf directed, as * he it therefore further enacted, That, in lieu and instead of the said last recited Charges and Penalties respecti* vely, from and after the passing of this Act, all such Spirits made or drawn in Great Britain for Exportation,
 * as shall be shipped for Stores, shall, during the Time the Ship or Vessel as shall be within the Limits of any * Part of this Kingdom, be openly flowed and kept, so that the Officers of Excise may at any Time examine * the same, on Pain of forfeiting the Double Duties which the Wort, Wash, Liqueur, or other Preparation,
 * from whence such Spirits were made or extracted, would have been charged or chargeable with, had such Spirits
 * been made or extracted from fermented Wort or Wash, brewed or made in that Part of Great Britain called * England, for extracting such Spirits for Home Consumption from Malt, Corn, Grain, or Tils, reckoning
 * as and after the Rate of one hundred Gallons of such Wort, Wash, Liqueur, or other Preparation, for every * twenty-four Gallons of such Spirits which shall not be so flowed and kept, or produced and shown to the * Officers of Excise; which said Double Duty shall be charged by the Officers of Excise, for such Stores which * shall not be so flowed and kept, or produced and shown as aforesaid, and which Charge shall be paid by the * Master of the Ship or Vessel on board of which such Stores were shipped; and when any Spirits made for Ex* portation shall be entered for Exportation to Ireland, or his Majesty's Plantations in America, or to any other * Parts beyond the Seas in Europe, or to any Parts beyond the Seas in Africa, the Exporter or Exporters thereof, * before any Part of such Spirits intended at that Time to be exported shall be shipped, shall give and enter into * such and the like Bonds for the due and fair Exportation of such Spirits, and produce such Certificates within * the respective Times, and make such Proofs as were respectively required to be given, entered into, produced, and * made, by an Act made in the thirty-third Year of the Reign of his late late Majesty King George the Second,
 * among other Things, for encouraging the Exportation of British-made Spirits, or the Exportation of Spirits
